Obituary.

Elnora Boone came from Oregon to Missouri in September, 1903, and remained about one year with her sister, Mrs. E. M. Oliver, and other friends. In September, 1904, went to Detroit, Mich., to visit and spend the winter with her brother, after which she intended to return to Oregon, but alas, the reaper whose name is Death came with sickle in hand and demanded the young life which was surrendered March 6, 1905. "To die is gain." She suffered a few days with pneumonia and was thought to be better, but her heart failed to perform its function and suddenly the life went out. Nora was brought up by her father (her mother having died when she was an infant) near the coast range mountains in Oregon, and, although about twenty years of age she seemed more like a child of fourteen. Because of her shy modesty she chose the small girls for her companions rather than the larger ones. Often in her mountain home she would ramble high up on the mountain side and there take delight in gathering wild flowers and ferns till it has been said of her by her friends she is a mountain lily herself. A mysterious Providence that the young must die. How can we understand. We leave it all with God and say Thy will be done. God's ways are not our ways.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Rob't Northcutt of Price's Branch Sunday night, March 12, 1905, a fine boy.

Henry Kenlon and family of near New Florence left Thursday for Shelley, Idaho, to make their future home.

Miss Nina Jamieson went to Jonesburg Wednesday morning to attend the funeral of her aunt, Mrs. Alice Kemble.

R. W. Bunch, Thomas Rosser and a few more boys from Whiteoak, east of Wellsville, are working in Hannibal.

Mrs. W. I. Woodson and children of Troy arrived here last Saturday to visit her parents, Dr. and Mrs. J. F. Graves.

Miss Clara Vogt very charmingly entertained the O. F. F. club at her home Saturday eve. Earl Donaldson and Julia Hudson winning the prize. Delicious refreshments were served.

Miss Mary Bruin of California, who came here last fall to visit relatives, died at the home of J. B. Shelton near Zion church Monday morning, March 13, 1905, at 2 o'clock, aged about 60 years. Her remains were buried in the family graveyard Tuesday afternoon.

Married, at the residence of the officiating minister, D. W. Graves, in this city, Wednesday, March 15, 1905, at 2:30 p. m., Mr. Fred Grabenstein and Miss Lena Strube, both of near New Florence. Mr. Grabenstein is a farmer and a very industrious young man. The attendants were Mr. Edward Strube and Miss Annie Strube, brother and sister of the bride.

Mrs. H. M. Jamieson went to St. Louis Monday morning in response to a message stating that her sister, Mrs. Alice Kemble, had been stricken with paralysis on Friday and was not expected to live. She died on Sunday morning and her remains were brought to Jonesburg, her girlhood home, Wednesday, where they were laid to rest in the cemetery at that place. Mrs. Jamieson remained with her until she passed away, and accompanied the remains to Jonesburg.

W. C. T. U. World's Fair.

The W. C. T. U. entertainment held in their hall Monday evening was indeed a success. Those who attended the great World's Fair readily recognized the different attractions on the Pike. The "Old Plantation" was one of the most popular attractions, the music of which was fine. "Fair Japan", received its share of patronage, as did also the "Fortune Teller." The "American Indians" rendered several songs which were loudly applauded. The W. C. T. U. ladies drank a health to the crowd from the clear, limpid, pure, sparkling waters of the W. C. T. U. Fountain.

The several "Barkers" made the Pike more realistic by calling attention to the different attractions. Several delightful solos were rendered by the young ladies. Old relics were much in evidence, one of which was a pistol which "fought, bled and died" in 1812. The most valuable souvenir was an antique candle-stick which was marked "Sold to I. C. Uptegrove for the small sum of $1500."

By far the major event of the evening was the reception at the "Missouri" building, given in honor of Mrs. Roosevelt, Mrs. Folk and Mrs. D. R. Francis.

The closing event was a solo by Miss Braska Rookwood which was well rendered. The receipts of the evening were $24 net.

Mrs. Mamie Gertrude Bibb

was born June 15, 1885 and died at the home of her father, R. S. Gilliland, in Montgomery City, Mo. March 10, 1905. She was married to Mr. R. F. Bibb April 26, 1899. Her passing from earth has sadly bereft the devoted young husband, and two little children. She was converted at the age of fifteen and joined the Baptist church at Montgomery City. She was a great sufferer during her last illness, but bore it patiently, always manifesting the Christian spirit. She was a loving daughter, and devoted wife and mother. The funeral services were conducted at the home, and her body laid to rest in the city cemetery to await the Resurrection morn. May God comfort the hearts of the bereaved ones. Her Pastor, T. M. GREEN. (Lincoln county papers please copy.)
